DRAFT

IV. BRIEFINGS

- DGGS, DHS&EM, AEC, MOA Geotechnical Advisory Commission, others:
 - AEC (West): The M7.9 Kodiak event showed the vulnerabilities to the AEC during power outages. There is funding for improvements in the Earthquake Center's power supply. The AEC has completed moving servers to a more reliable building. UAF is currently scoping options to provide backup generator power and networking. West continues to support federal legislation to reauthorize the National Earthquake Hazards Prevention Program (NEHRP), which is working its way through congress now. The AEC is using and advocating for the US Array instrumentation that is currently deployed in Alaska. West hopes to retain much of the instrumentation for the benefit of the state.
 - DHS&EM (Stuart): Next month she will travel to the 2018 National Earthquake Program Manager's Meeting in Seattle. Her division has acquired training funds for earthquake safety classes in late summer or early fall. She will keep the Commission apprised on those classes.
 - MOA GAC (Scher, Aho): Aho suggested a joint ASHSC/GAC meeting this year.
 - EERI Alaska Chapter (Aho): Alaska's was the first chapter established. Members have interest in increased activity and reorganization. Interested Commission members should contact him. An organizational meeting will be in Anchorage on April 18.
